Approval for a calculator to be used in University examinations is granted on an individual basis and each calculator to be used must be presented by the student for the attachment of a distinctive marker. If you expect to use a calculator in an examination you must comply with the following instructions:
 - (a) Consult the lists of approved/prohibited models displayed in Departmental Offices (Students are advised not to buy a new calculator without consulting the latest edition of the lists.)
 - (b) If your calculator is shown on the list of approved models, take it to Departmental Offices where a marker will be attached.
 - (c) If your calculator is shown on the list of prohibited models, do not attempt to use it in an examination. If you do you will be judged to have “used or attempted to use unfair means” and disciplinary action may be taken against you.
 - (d) If your calculator is on neither list, take it to Departmental Offices as soon as possible and preferably no later than mid-December in any year, and complete the application for it to be approved. You will be able to keep your calculator. Calculators which do not have external means of programming and have numeric function only will almost certainly be permitted. Among the calculators which are prohibited are:

A student in the International Faculty who is the subject of a complaint of misconduct or against whom a criminal charge is pending or who is the subject of police investigation may be suspended by the College Principal pending the completion of proceedings under these Regulations, the trial of the charges or the completion of the police investigation. If the student does not admit the charge, the hearing shall proceed as though the student denied the charge.
15. If the charge is denied, the officer shall present the facts alleged and present material in support of the charge (which may take the form of oral or written statements by witnesses or of documents or digital images). The student may then make a statement and present material in refutation of the charge. The officer and the student may each ask questions and comment upon the material presented by the other party. The College Discipline Committee may itself ask questions or seek additional material (any such material to be open to question and comment by either party) and may adjourn from time to time as seems expedient. The College Discipline Committee shall then (in the absence of all other persons) decide whether it is satisfied on the material before it that the charge is made out.
16. If the charge is admitted, or the College Discipline Committee finds the charge made out, the officer and the student may make statements and present material relevant to the question of the penalty to be imposed. The College Discipline Committee shall then (in the absence of all other persons) determine the penalty to be imposed.
17. If the student fails to attend the hearing, the College Discipline Committee may proceed if it is satisfied that due notice of the meeting has been given, or may adjourn to a later date. If the Committee acts in the absence of the student it shall proceed as if the student denied the charge unless it is satisfied that the student has voluntarily provided a written admission of the charge as specified.
